The Deal

Music:Nobuhiko Shinohara

Every time I pass a town
I see people have sunsets in their eyes
Every time I pass a town
I feel the tears they've cried
Every time I pass a town
I find that I keep asking myself why
Every time I pass a town
I see the fears so clear

The horizon up ahead
I try to keep my eyes upon the road
The horizon that I dread
It's all been bought and sold
The horizons reached and lost
In the layers of life along this road
My horizon has paid the cost
I'll reach the end too soon

The road
Is the road a healer
The road
What does it conceal?
The road
Or is it just a stealer
The road
Just a part of the deal

All our friends we've loved or cursed
Do they still have the memories in their hearts?
In my mind I'm still immersed
In our lives we've spent apart
All our lives we've been immersed
In our quest for a life among the stars
This life that is not rehearsed
The lights fade way too soon
